People Will Uphold the Action of the Great Democratic Convention.

PARTY IS DETERMINED.

It Will Now Carry the Fight to the End.

Third President Democrats Admit a Resolution of Confidence in Joseph M. Watson—Caine and Martineau at American Fork—The Herald's Great Edition—Cheering Reports from All Over the Territory—The Democratic Bill Tonight.

Whom of the great Democratic state movement are still playing in the ears of the people of this city and the news of it is being broadcast over the territory to excite the people to the new and great issue that has come before them.

The effect of the convention was good. Republicans who had no idea of the great importance of the issue presented and who had been echoing the Republican politicians in the convention that Judge Powers was making a grand stand play, and that much else was being made about nothing, were converted by the convention.

News was there such a cheering in Utah. If any person, when feeling was still high, anybody should have suggested that a great convention from the whole of Utah, made up of three-fourths Democrats, would not to regulate a protest against the use in politics of the epidemic power of officials of that church, it would have been taken to account.

It was the special feature of the convention. It represented a good majority of the Democratic people of Utah and a minority of the non-Democratic people. It was made up of all the best of the Democratic people of Utah and a minority of the non-Democratic people. It was made up of all the best of the Democratic people of Utah and a minority of the non-Democratic people.

GREETING TO THE PRESIDENT.

Southland Welcomes Grover Cleveland at Atlanta, Cleveland at Atlanta.

THE ENTHUSIASM INTENSE.

President Introduced in a Neat Speech by Mr. Collier.

He Responds in a Speech Marked with Perfect Good Taste—The Reception of the South Completed—Proceedings Closed by an Ovation—President Returns to Washington.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 23.—No balm-her sun ever shone over this particular portion of Southland than that which dawned on it this morning, the president's day at the Cotton States and International exposition. Thousands of visitors, landed in the city yesterday, swelled the throngs on the streets to immense proportions. In accordance with the carefully laid plans of the exposition management, the exercises of the day were all concentrated within the exposition grounds.

The presidential party spent the morning quietly at the Aragon. At 11 o'clock they were driven rapidly to the exposition grounds, without any parade whatever. Inside the gates the military had already gathered.

Captain J. F. Burke, of the Gate City guards, acted as marshal. He had in line the Fifth regiment of the United States regulars, commanded by Colonel W. K. Kellogg, Fourth Virginia regiment, Virginia military institute cadets, the First and Second companies of the Governor's foot guards of Connecticut, Grimes' foot guards of Richmond, and Asheville light infantry.

The troops were reviewed by the president from a stand in front of the government building.

No Unpleasantness Between Bayard and Salisbury.

OLNEY WILL NOT RESIGN.

British Gail Explained by Family Relations.

Trinidad Affair Taken Up by Salisbury on Behalf of His Relative, Sackville—British Position Highly Popular Among the Residents of British Guiana.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The United States embassy this afternoon issued a statement regarding the dispatches from New York received by the London Times regarding that United States ambassador Bayard had an interview of an unpleasant nature with the marquis of Salisbury on the Venezuelan question. The embassy asserts that Bayard had no communication, written or verbal, from the British foreign office, or from the marquis of Salisbury, which could be classed as unpleasant, or in any way justifying the statements contained in the dispatch referred to.

Rumor of Disagreement Discredited.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The published intimation that Secretary Olney intended to resign because he has not been supported by the president in his foreign policy is wholly discredited here, and persons close to the secretary insist that the relations between him and the president are of the most cordial and intimate nature and have been such since the latter assumed the administration of the state department. His visit to Boston is said to have been required for the purpose of settling a matter of business, and he was not expected to be absent from the capital for so long a time. It was further stated that the marquis of Salisbury had demanded reparation for the "Crime of the Orinoco" and that the United States had more sympathy for the British than England has. Therefore, continuing the dispatch, it was stated that the marquis of Salisbury had demanded reparation for the "Crime of the Orinoco" and that the United States had more sympathy for the British than England has.
